What Data We Collect From You?

We collect information you provide, like your name, address, telephone number (landline or mobile) and email address when processing your enquiries, delivering services you have ordered from us and providing business related transactional communications (e.g. Invoices) or service and maintenance communications (e.g. Notices of service disruption).

We may also use Google Analytics cookies to collect information about how visitors use our site. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, so we don't know who is using our site. Data is collected from either our enquiry form, or via direct communication.

What Data We Collect From Third Parties?

We collect no other data from third party services.

How We Use Your Data?

- We will use your telephone number and / or email address to contact you for transactional communications (e.g. Quotes or Invoices).
- We will use your telephone number and / or email address to provide support for services you have already acquired from us.
- We may use your email address to send you direct marketing, but only if you have opted in to receive emails about our services.
- We do not store credit / debit card details on our systems.

Legal Basis Under The GDPR By Which We Process Your Data?

We will process personal data where this is necessary to provide support for services you have already acquired from us.

1. The data subject (you) has given consent to the processing of his or her personal data for one or more specific purposes;
2. Processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject (you) is party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract;

Protection

We employ safeguards, such as formal Data Protection and Data Retention policies, to protect your privacy.

To opt out of any of the above processing, please contact us.

You are under no legal requirement to provide your personal data and you are not required to provide personal data to us. However, your failure to do so may affect our ability to provide the services you request – for instance, letting you know about important support issues, such as expected maintenance and downtime of services we provide.

We will not be liable for compensation if we are not able to contact you.

Data Subject Rights

- Under the GDPR you, as the data subject, have the following rights:
- You have the right to ask us for a copy of the data we hold about you.
- You have the right to ask us to correct any data we hold about you.
- You have the right to ask us to delete the data we hold about you.
- You have the right to ask us to stop processing your data.
- You have the right to ask us to provide you with your data in a common, machine readable format.
- You have the right to restrict the processing of your data to specific purposes.
- You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.
- You have the right to make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office.

See <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/>.

We will not charge you for a copy of the data we hold about you & will respond to requests within 30 days.

If any of the information we have is wrong, let us know and we'll correct it.

Sharing Your Data?

We will never sell your personal data to another organisation.

We may disclose your personal data if required by law or to enforce our legal right.

We may disclose your data to service providers who render services to us or you on our behalf (all of which are contractually obligated to act only on our instructions and in accordance with applicable laws, including GDPR), which includes our accountants.

How Long We Will Hold Your Data?

We will keep your information for as long as you are a service user or subscriber with Dr Slush Limited. After you stop your contract with us, we will hold your personal data for a maximum of 6 years before gaining further consent, unless instructed differently by you. This is in compliance with HMRC for invoice and tax purposes (see <https://www.gov.uk/self-employed-records#6>). We will review our criteria for determining our retention period regularly.

How We Secure Your Data?

We will collect process and store your data safely and securely.

Our staffs are trained in current Data Protection regulations and are required to abide by our Data Protection Policy.
